

The Law Offices of Thomas Wilson Achieve Top Courtroom Success Rate

(Tucson, AZ. 2016) Achieving an almost unparalleled rate of success, the Law Offices of Thomas Wilson has won 80% of cases that they've taken to trial in 2015 and the first half of 2016. This measure of courtroom success is especially impressive considering that Pima County prosecutors boast a 97% conviction rate. While there are many factors that can explain their success, it all begins with a careful examination of each case and then actually bringing those cases to trial.

When facing a trial, the prosecutor will have access to a vast wealth of resources and will be working in tandem with the police to ensure a conviction. Rather than face these challenges, many defense attorneys will recommend that their clients take a plea deal, regardless of whether it's in their client's best interest or not.

“At our law firm, each one of our attorneys builds a personal relationship the client,” explains Thomas Wilson, founder of the Law Office of Thomas Wilson, P.C. “When you feel connected with the client, when you see them as a whole person, you're going to fight even harder for them. That personal connection is what helps us stand out.”

With a primary focus on DUI and Family Law, the Law Office of Thomas Wilson focus is ready for a wide range of cases. Each of their attorneys practice within their area of focus but at the same time they will collaborate with each other which helps them think outside of the box. This type of lateral thinking will frequently provide insight that other defense attorneys might miss.

“We have more than 50 years of experience in our office,” continued Wilson. “That level of experience is a benefit to our clients that they might not get elsewhere. We utilize all of our resources for each client as if they were a member of our family.”

Motivated by justice for their clients more than accolades, the Law Office of Thomas Wilson approaches law from a public service perspective. More than just providing legal representation, they want people to know their rights, and they provide free consultation on cases in service of that goal.

“Our personal approach and dedication to justice and the rights of our clients is why we have the success that we do,” said Wilson.

About the Law Office of Thomas Wilson

Founded by a former Marine and former law enforcement officer, the Law Office of Thomas Wilson serves the Tucson community with heart and a dedication to justice. Thomas Wilson would like the public to know their rights because an educated population is a responsible population. As the premier DUI attorneys in the Tucson Metro area, the Law Office of Thomas Wilson will provide a free consultation on DUI arrests.